HIGHLANDER OF 1949

HIGHLAND PARK HIGH SCHOOL
Topeka, Kansas

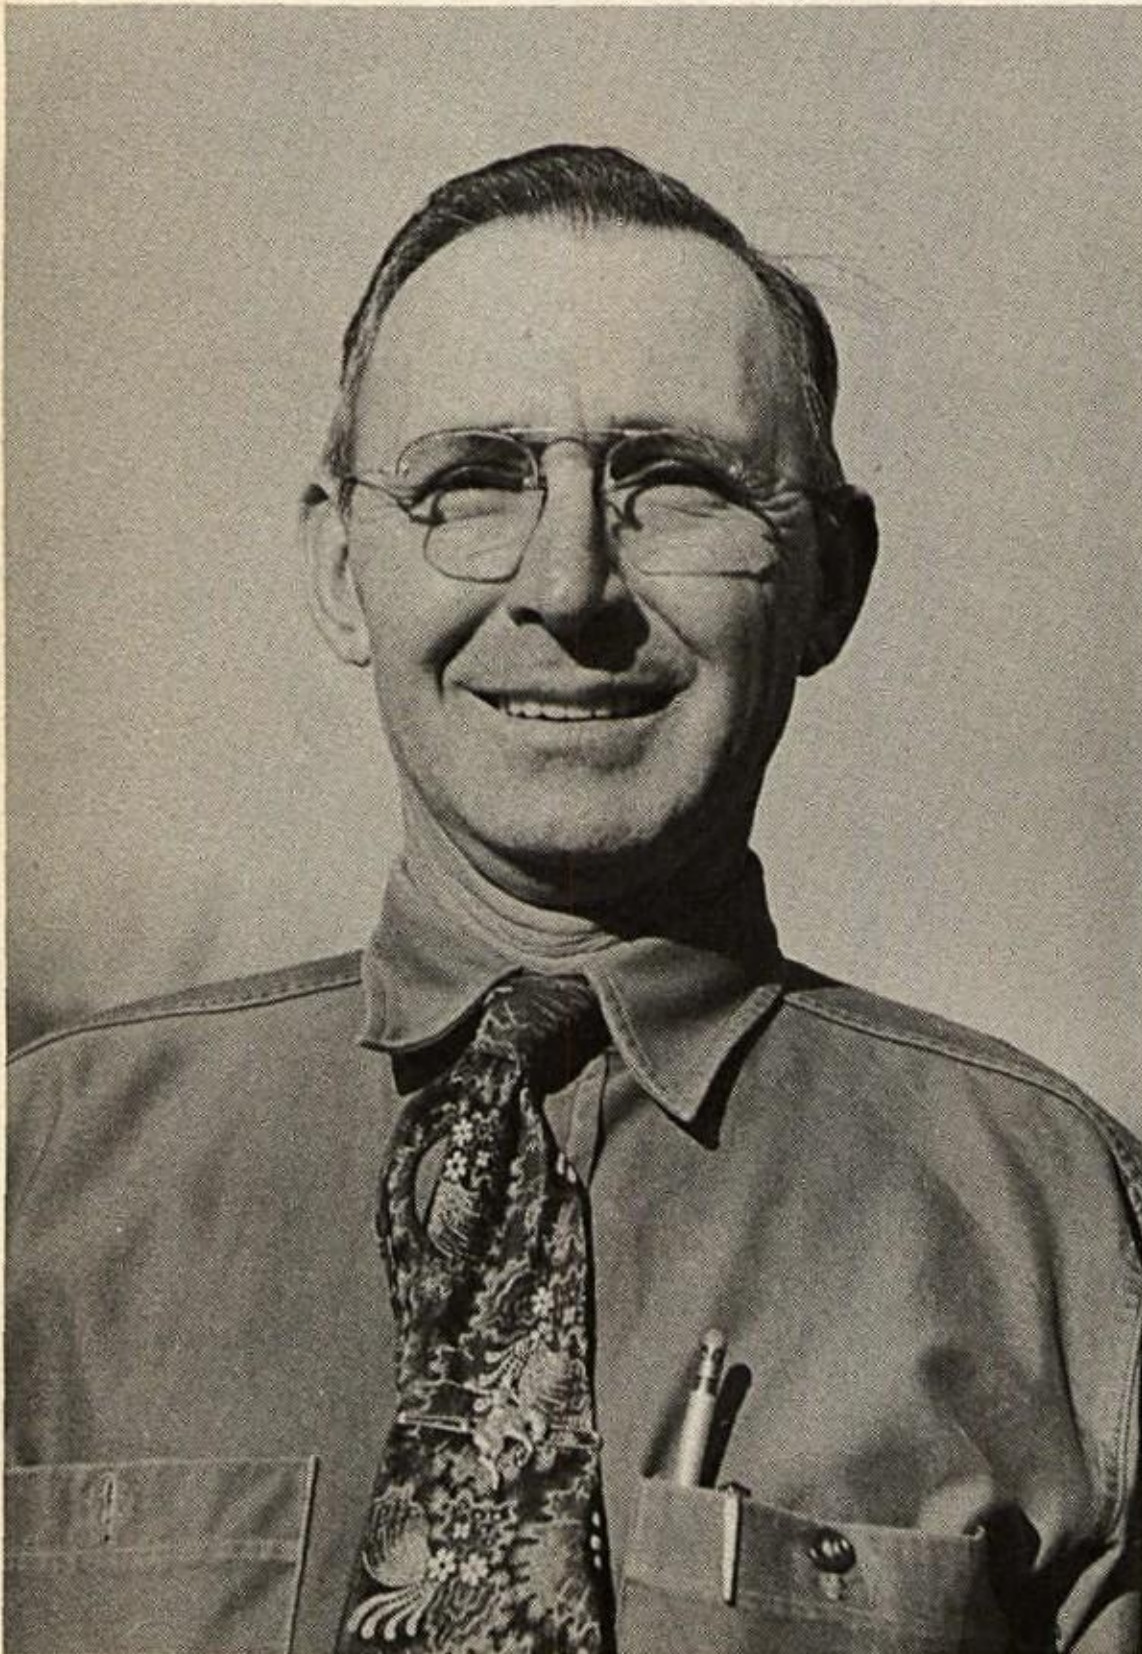

Editor _____ Shirley Fowler

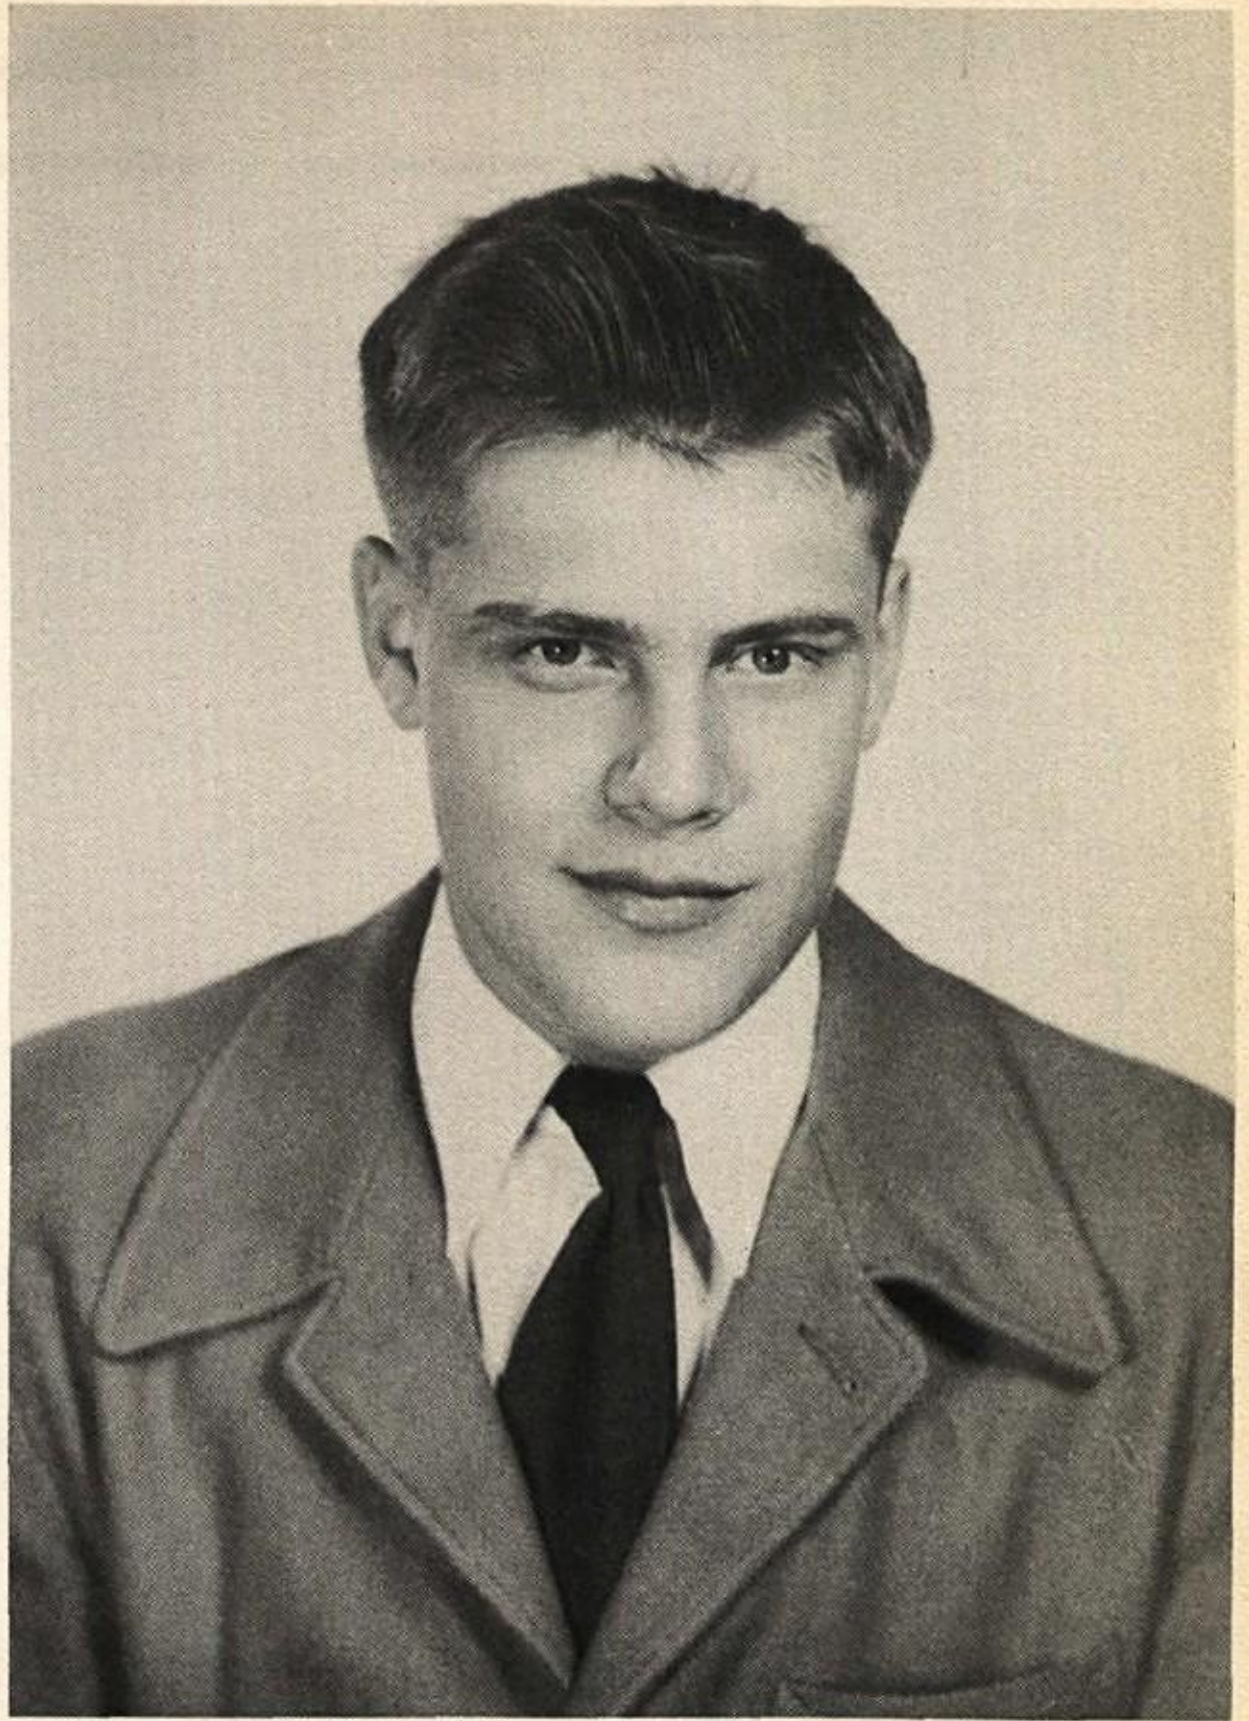

Associate Editor _____ Pat Swan

Advisor _____ Betty Lee Baskett

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1949, wish to dedicate our HIGHLANDER to Irvin A. Andres. From that moment when we first wandered through the halls as freshmen until the hour of our graduation, no person or problem has been too small for "Andy" to notice. He has worked with us, worried with us, laughed with us, and kept us in line. Any success that we have achieved during these last four years has come with his help and encouragement. We shall always be grateful to him.

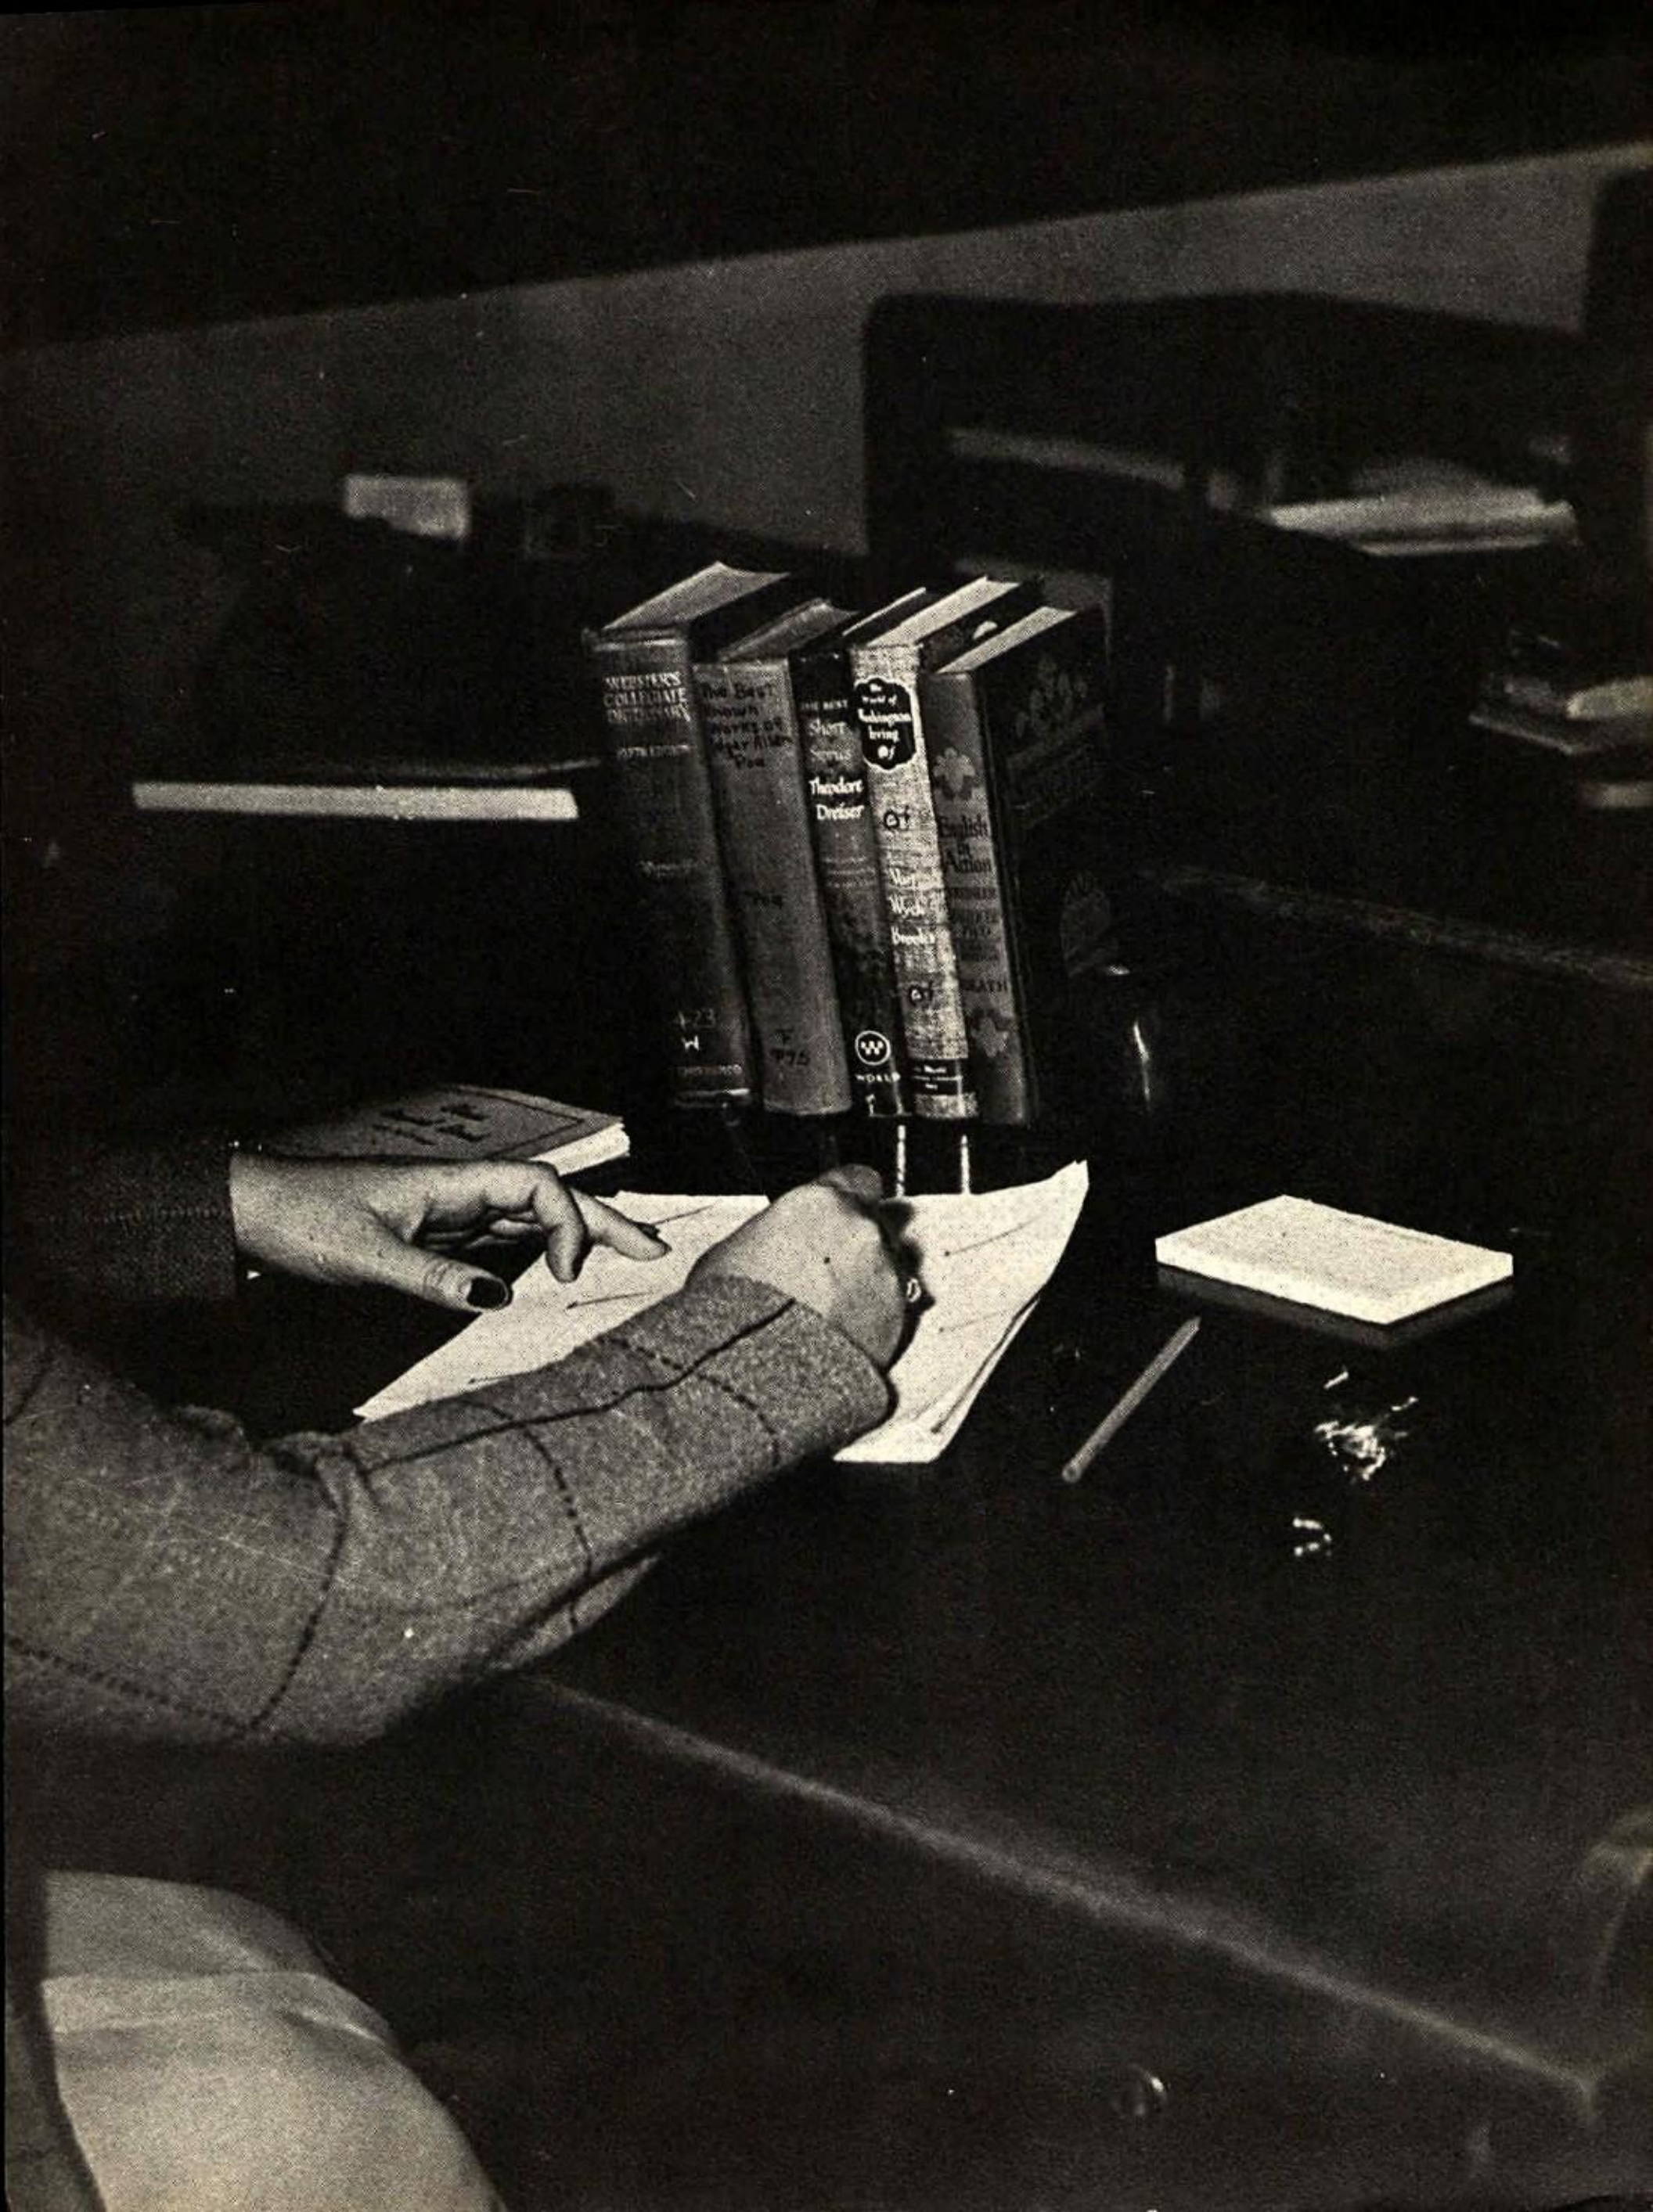

RONALD LEO PLUMMER

Ronald is gone — —
And with him has gone a bit of all our hearts.
Gone is the fire of his spirit, his laugh, and his big, friendly way;
Gone is the carefree kindness of his heart.
And yet — — and yet — —
He is not gone so long as one of us, our children, or our children's children shall live
For he has become a part of our beings, a part of our hearts — —
And herein lies the key to immortality.

THE ADMINISTRATION

WALTER J. HINES
Principal

Three men who have had many extra tasks and who have done excellent work are these members of the Highland Park High School Board of Education. Faced by the controversial issue of whether to build a new building and then the question of where, when, and how, these men have done an exceptionally fine job and are to be commended.

Walter J. Hines, Principal of Highland Park High School, is undoubtedly a man with "punch". None will say that our administrator is 'easy,' but none will question his results or the esteem in which we hold him. His accomplishments are many; his smile, wit, and sense of fair play have won for him the highest regard of all of us.

TAKE A PEEK AT THESE FACULTY MEMBERS AS THEY TRY TO DO EACH OTHER'S WORK

After teaching twenty-four years without one day's absence because of illness, Mr. Croft disappointed everyone when he was forced to take an extended rest. Reclining in bed was indeed foreign from his usual routine.

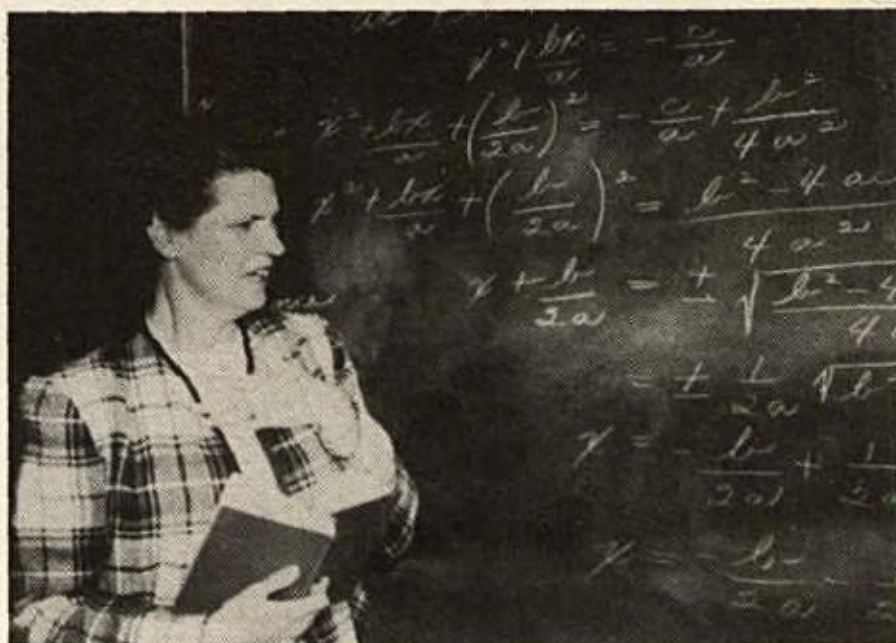

Mr. Carpenter tears his hair, trying to arrange a few yearbook pages.

Mrs. Lindquist exchanges her pancake-turner for an acetylene torch and seems just a bit dubious about it.

Cleaning up after the "kids" would keep a dozen men busy, Mr. Hines thinks.

A simple math problem is bad enough, but an advanced algebra equation gives Mrs. Rohler real stagefright.

"Manipulating a ruffler is plenty baffling," Mr. Howard meditates as he struggles with a sewing machine.

Mrs. Matoush, taking over the principal's duties, settles herself comfortably in the office.

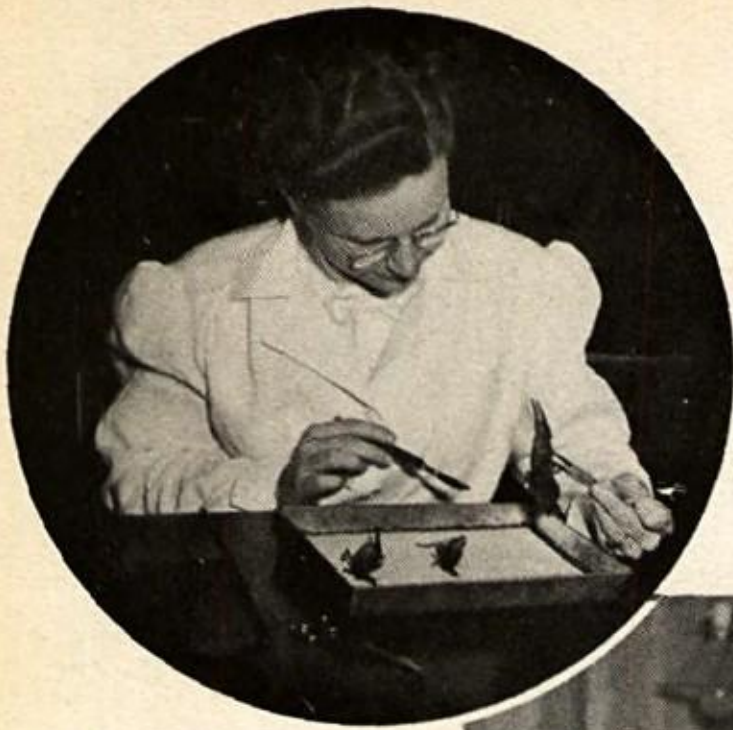

Disciplining a boys' gym class is no trouble at all with Mr. Howard's paddle to assist her. (Mrs. Bowser has evidently caught Shoop chewing gum once too often!)

Turning the corner on two wheels, Miss Baskett takes the school bus on its early morning run.

"According to my calculations, Zululand should be located just about here," ponders Miss Trotter.

Mrs. Carr wonders which end is up as she examines a crayfish.

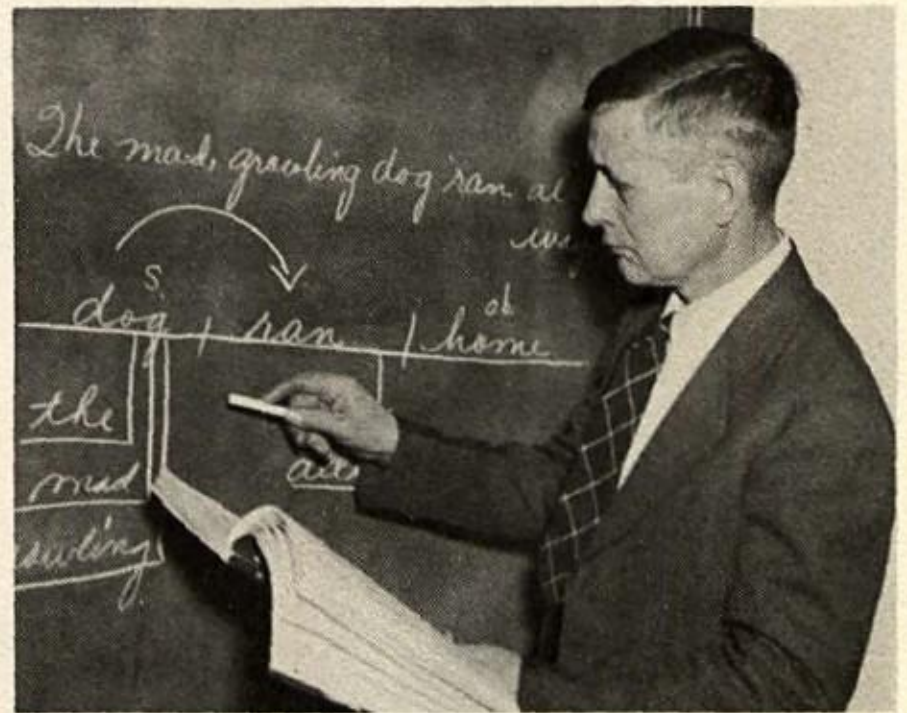

"With a little practice, I could be a second Oscar Levant," Mr. Herrman boasts.

"All you need is a little elbow grease," Miss Nygren states as she looks dubiously at a machine in the manual training room.

Shorthand is all Greek to Mrs. Weller; but she's well supplied with vim, vigor, and pencils.

Mr. Simpson decides that diagramming sentences is not one of his talents.

"What'll happen now?" queries Miss O'Brien.

In a rather gingerly manner, Miss Nichol takes the baton and steps before the band.

Mrs. Stinson takes over the "ag" teacher's duties and tempts a sheep to have lunch.

"Then, ya lug, ya go thisaway," says Miss Hurtgen as she "subs" for the coach at skull practice.

Mr. Reynolds believes that teaching a girls' gym class is no snap.

"What a let-down! And I followed the recipe exactly," moans Mr. Harvey.

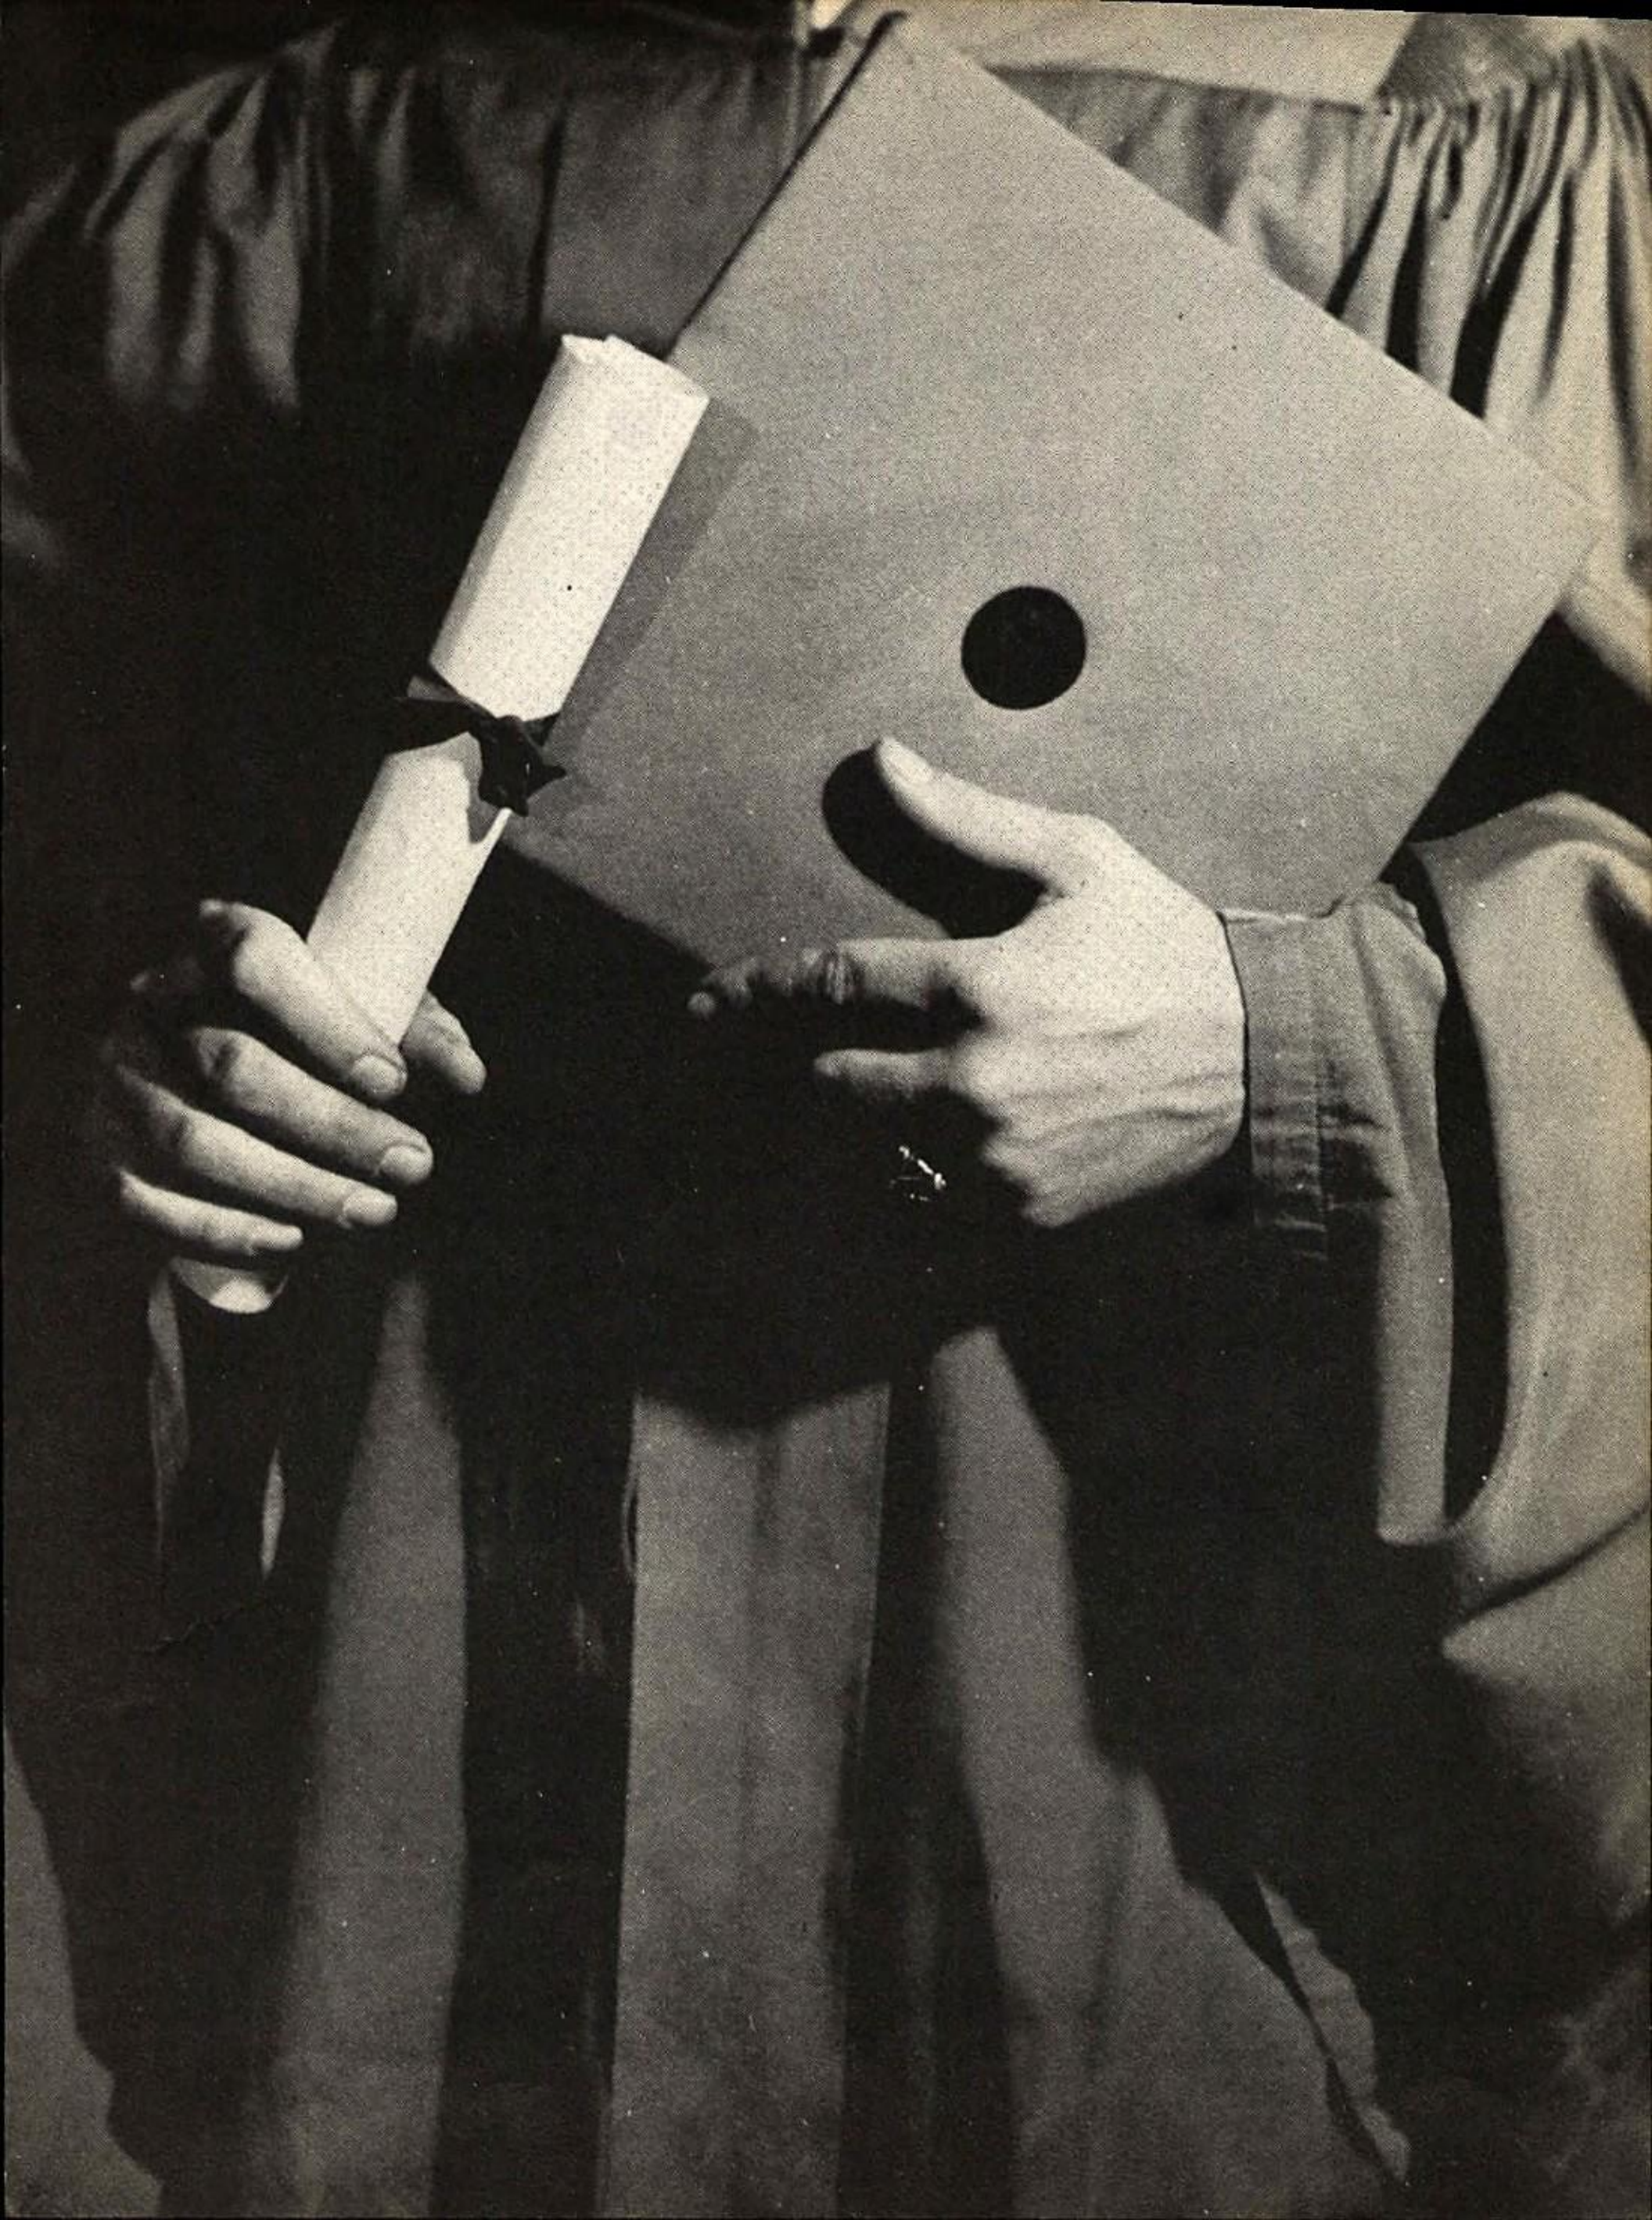

"Do, re, mi, — — Sing, children," Mr. Merryman pleads.

CLASS OF 1949

Nineteen hundred and forty-five was a big year in the world's history. The war ended in Germany and in Japan. The war BEGAN in Highland Park High School. "We" arrived! We, the instigators of many a noble deed and nefarious plot, were making our debuts as freshmen.

At first we were greatly overawed by all we saw; but by the time Don Meek and Ronald Plummer had been initiated for the tenth time, we began to get the hang of things. Steadily we advanced in scholarship, athletics, music, dramatics, and just plain chicanery!

Ah, and then there was our sophomore year. That, you recall, was the year when Lindsay Gillespie's obsession was drawing circles on Miss Baskett's walls. Not to be satisfied with that, he daintily dropped a lighted match from a second story window, thus starting a whopping big grass fire, much to the delight of his classmates. For a few moments we thought that the building was sure to go! But it didn't!! During the same term Jerry Fisher, when charging like a wounded bull after Bob Diel during football practice, failed to see the goal post looming in his path. He stopped rather abruptly! When he finally "came to," he seemed surprised to see the gang bending over him. Upon being asked the date, he replied, "Aw, heck, Coach, I wouldn't know that anyway!"

The entire junior year seemed to revolve around the prom scheduled for that spring. With our customary fervor, we produced a sensational play in order to raise more money for the "Heavenly" prom which we demons decided to stage. In due time the big night rolled around. Interesting sights were Frank Fritts proudly exhibiting an orchid corsage (with Donna Bledsoe attached) and a formidable stag line featuring Messrs. Fisher, Horton, and Purdy.

In spite of all the fun we have had in years past, this senior year has been best of all. We'll always remember Tom Sawyer's impersonations of Jimmy Durante, especially the time his putty nose stuck on the piano keyboard! The year hasn't been all fun, however. School days for many of us will soon be over and all of us have been doing more thinking than in times gone by. In several fields we have reached a new high. We have set a high goal for the classes which will follow.

Shirley Fowler, Miss Baskett, and Pat Swan make final plans for the yearbook "dummy."

During the summer the HIGHLANDER Staff holds regular meetings so that when school begins, work is ready to start in earnest. Here the 1949 Staff gathers at Eleanor Wright's home.

The shutter-bugs—Bill Ash, Ronald Reed, Dale Morris, and Bob Obenhaus—take aim.

In charge of yearbook sales, Helen Bush and Marilyn Hentzler place a poster on a bulletin board.

"Ginny" Fowler works on one of the division pages which introduce the various sections of the book.

Coleen Fry and Dee Aaron invade the H. P. Drug to persuade Jerry Butel to take an ad in the 1949 HIGHLANDER.

The dollar which Don Meek be-grudgingly pays to Doris Gunselman entitles him to have his senior picture taken at Christopher's Studio.

These gals take time out for refreshments. As book-keeper, Bertha Fisher has to account for every dollar involved. Eleanor Wright's efforts go toward compiling information about seniors' activities.

Planning layouts for sports pages keeps Bernard Jones and Don George busy.

Cabinet members meet at Wilma Gates' home for the regular cabinet meeting—Barbara Kramer, Miss Trotter, Helen Bush, Eleanor Wright, Wilma Gates, Kathy Smith, Barbara Southard, Marilyn Barkes, Betty Hunt, Beth Raab, Miss Nichol, and Marilyn Hentzler.

Peggy Simmons, service chairman, and her committee—Marva Lee Kriepe, Lesta Mae Griffith, and Irene Morgan—collect gifts contributed by Y-Teens for children at St. Vincent's Orphanage.

A detailed account of Student Council discussions is given by Larry Figgins to the home room group which he represents. Each Monday after the Council meeting on Friday, home room representatives relate to the others the school problems and projects discussed by the Council.

Diane McFarland and Virginia Knox, co-editors, work late to print an issue of the bi-weekly F.H.A. newspaper.

SCIENCE CLUB

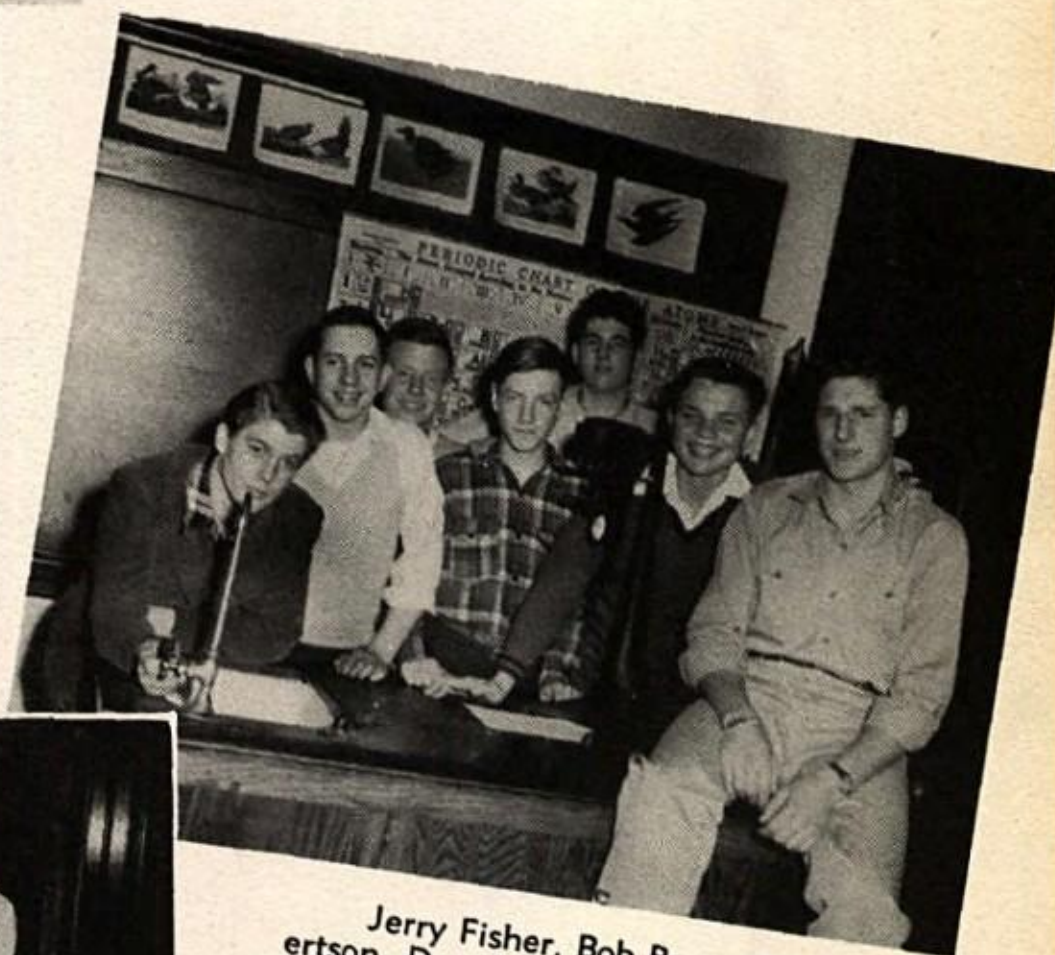

Ed Osborn speaks a few fancy words into the mike and his brother Phil records them on the $225 machine purchased last spring by the school.

Phil Osborn, Richard Shimer, Rex Wilt, Ronnie Evans, Richard Burgard, and Dallas Noel study the coefficient of linear expansion.

President Ed Osborn, Vice-president Loren McMurray, Treasurer Roger Triplett, and Secretary Bob Obenhaus meet with Sponsor Lyndon Herrman.

Jerry Fisher, Bob Boner, Bruce Robertson, Don A. Boaz, Ronald Reed, Bob Dunham, and Merle Zirkle are active Science Club members.

SPOTLIGHT CLUB

Tom Sawyer, pantomime artist, impersonates Jimmy Durante. Also in his repertoire are Al Jolson, Ted Lewis, and Gene Kelly presentations.

THESPIAN SOCIETY

Prin. Walter Hines accepts for the school the Thespian charter from Juanita Patterson, president of Spotlight Club.

When the first Thespians at HPHS were initiated on February 25, tea was served to guests. Pictured are Miss Hurtgen, Helen Bush, Marilyn Wayman, Pat Swan, Tom Sawyer, Barbara Kramer, Marvin Long, Bertha Brewer, Betty Hunt, and Juanita Patterson.

Spotlight Club members and Topeka High Thespians conduct formal ceremony for Highland Park initiates.

Prompter Marilyn Wayman, Stage Manager Betty Hunt, and Publicity Manager Tom Sawyer keep the cogs of the play running smoothly.

"Blithe Spirit," a three-act farce, was successfully produced by Thespians March 29. Here Pat Swan, Don George, Helen Bush, Marvin Long, and Barbara Kramer try to revive Madame Arcati (Bertha Brewer) following a seance. In the doorway stands the spirit of Elvira (Juanita Patterson).

CLEF CLUB

Jack Kenney and Eleanor Wright are oblivious to Pug Revell's protests when they try to feed her a worm at the club initiation.

Everyone enjoys "nosing" an egg across the floor — especially if Gary Johnson is the initiate!

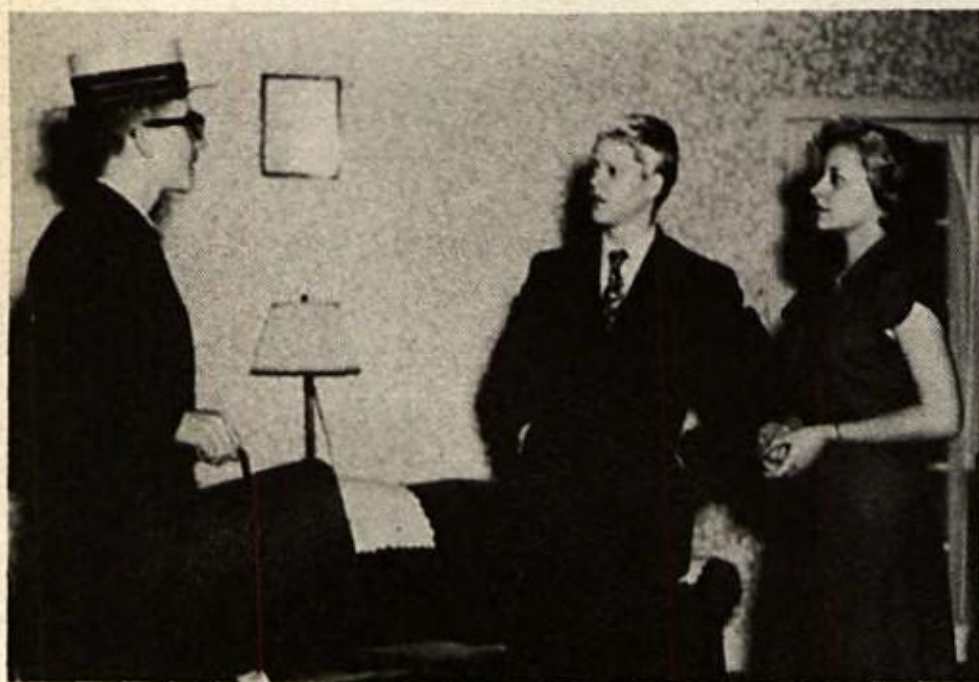

To the surprise of all concerned, Merle Zirkle is captured by Irene McConnell, and Marilyn Wayman nabs James Dunnaway.

Dale Jensen, Bob Dunham, and Merlin Wilson are captivated by the charms of Marilyn Wayman, a young lady who believes in always telling the truth regardless of results.

Merlin, Bob, and Dale plead in vain with three strong-willed young women—Alice Pressgrove, JoAnn Williams, and Laura Ward.

Book salesman James Dunnaway gives his best sales talk to Frenchy Jones, head of the house, (?????) and his dominating wife.

Yvonna Bradford, in her role of the mother of the home, tries to discipline Lily, the "disinfectin' " maid (Peggy Aaron).

LAST ROW: D. Andres, Wilt, McPhail, George, Fritts, Couch, Zirkle, B. Jones, Boursaw. SECOND ROW: Barracough, Meek, Browne, Chilson, Horton, W. Smith, A. Mather, J. Fisher, Mr. Reynolds. H-CLUB

Chilson and Horton battle it out furiously in a three-round match at the boxing exhibition sponsored by H-Club.

When "Crusher Calhoun" Ash offers to fight anyone in the crowd, "Union Suit" Boursaw is forced into the ring by his tobacco-chewing friend, "Buck Tooth" Jones.

Scotch Lassie officers "refresh" between halves of the Seaman-Highland game—President Donna Bledsoe, Vice-president Delores Aaron, Secretary Shirley Fowler, and Treasurer Helen Bush.

The Highland Park High School band, appearing this year in snappy new uniforms, is one of the most closely knit, basic organizations in the school. Directed by H. Burton Harvey, newly appointed member as orchestra representative from Kansas in the National School Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association, this 66-piece band has gained an enviable reputation as a concert and marching band.

This organization, which has received a First Division rating at the district music festival in Lawrence for the past two years, appears at most home football and basketball games. The band has made several trips, including ones to out-of-town football games at Hiawatha and Ottawa and to Band Day at Kansas State College in Manhattan, where the group gave a demonstration in precision marching.

Appearing in many parades in this area and in several concerts completed the band's activities for the year.

Directed by H. Burton Harvey, the 36-piece orchestra ranks among the best high school orchestras in the state of Kansas. It has placed in the First Division at the Lawrence district music festival for the past three years.

Catering to the classics, this group offers a broad musical background to interested students. Many members are accomplished instrumental soloists, as is evidenced by the high number of first division ratings earned in the solo divisions of both the district and the state music festivals.

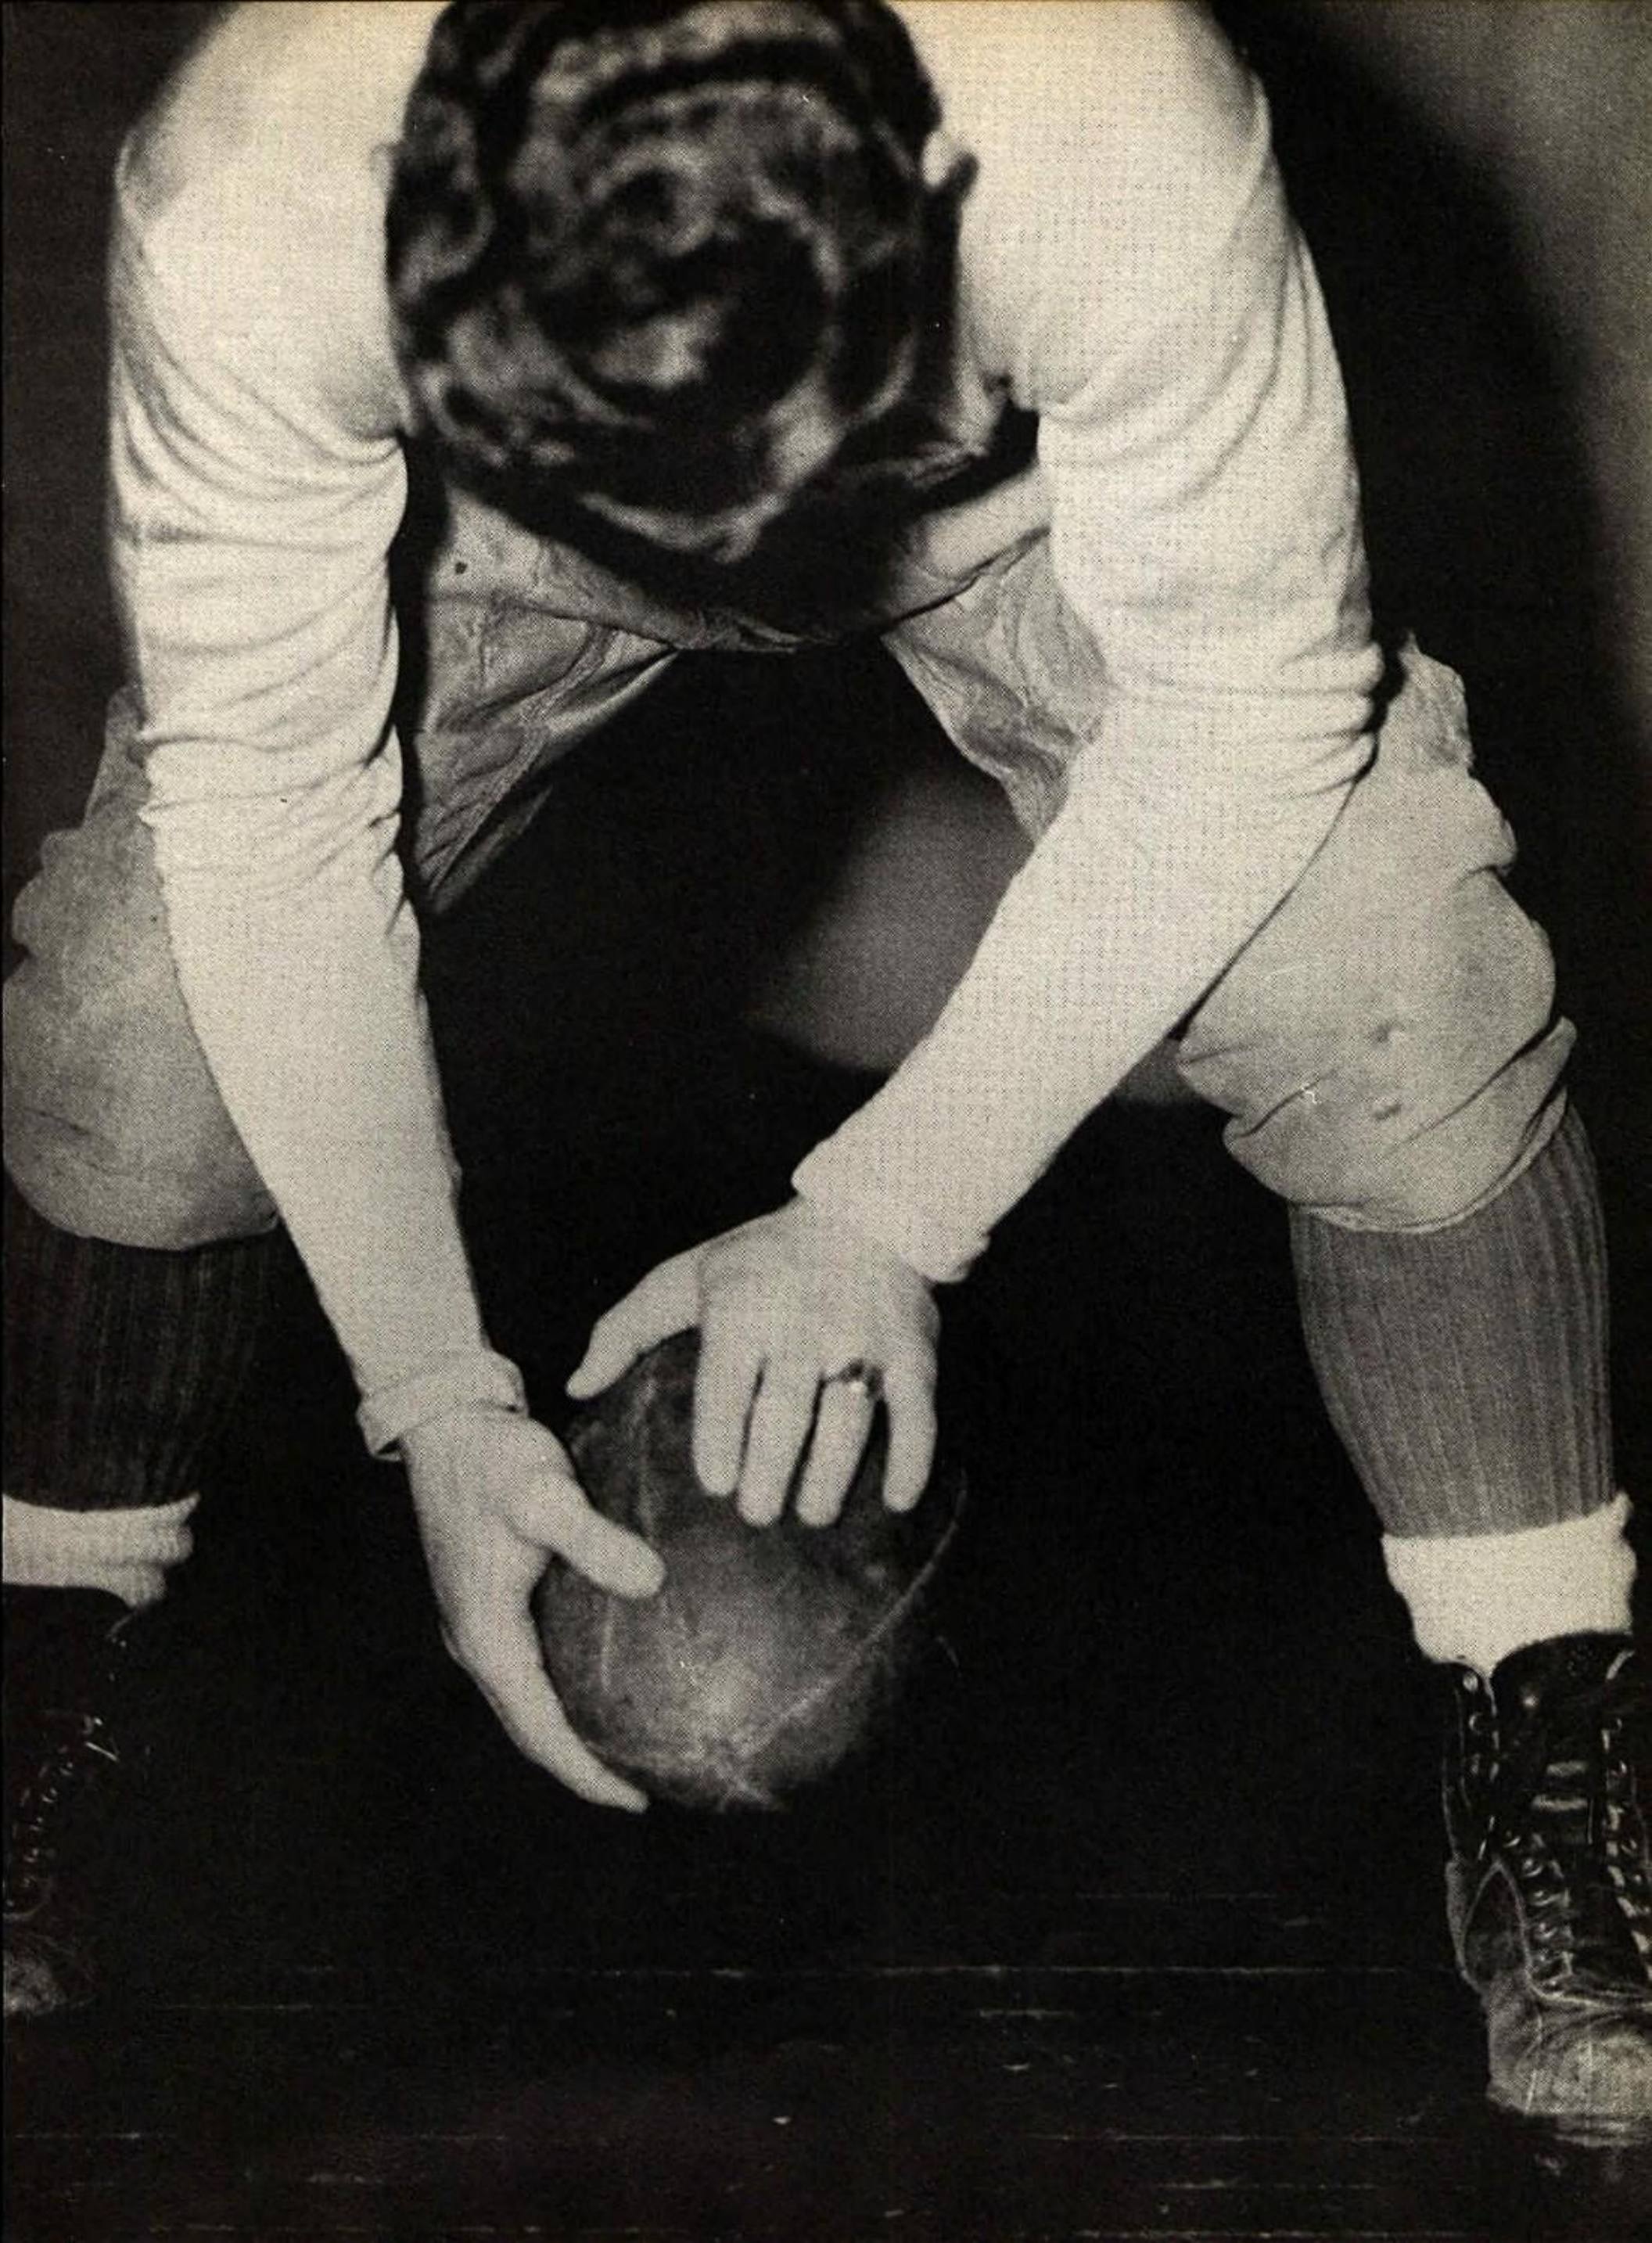

The orchestra appears at all of the school plays and presents several concerts each year.

GIVE!!

Highland Park's inexperienced varsity took it on the chin for the first few games before the added experience began to make itself known in the Scotties' teamwork. About mid-season the jinx came in earnest with the injury of a regular tackle and the illness of a regular end, which finished those boys for the season. These, combined with numerous other injuries of a minor nature, served to keep the battling Highlanders far below par all season.

Head Coach Claude Reynolds, starting with a new formation and only one returning regular starter, whipped his squad into a dangerous team before the end of the season even though the Scots won only one game while losing eight.

Even so, the season was certainly not wasted, for the players had an opportunity to become accustomed to their new formation, the short punt, and the new coach and above all the chance to find themselves. All of these things plus the spirit gained by these boys make Highland Park the team to lead in the Jayhawk League next year.

Highland Park freshmen and sophomores, under the able tutelage of Coaches John Merryman and Paul Stone, started early in their high school lives to learn football.

These inexperienced Scottie Pups finished the year well-versed in football fundamentals. Playing a rugged six-game schedule gave the fellows plenty of chances to put into practice the techniques taught them by their coaches. Next year several graduates of this beginners' school will be playing with the varsity.

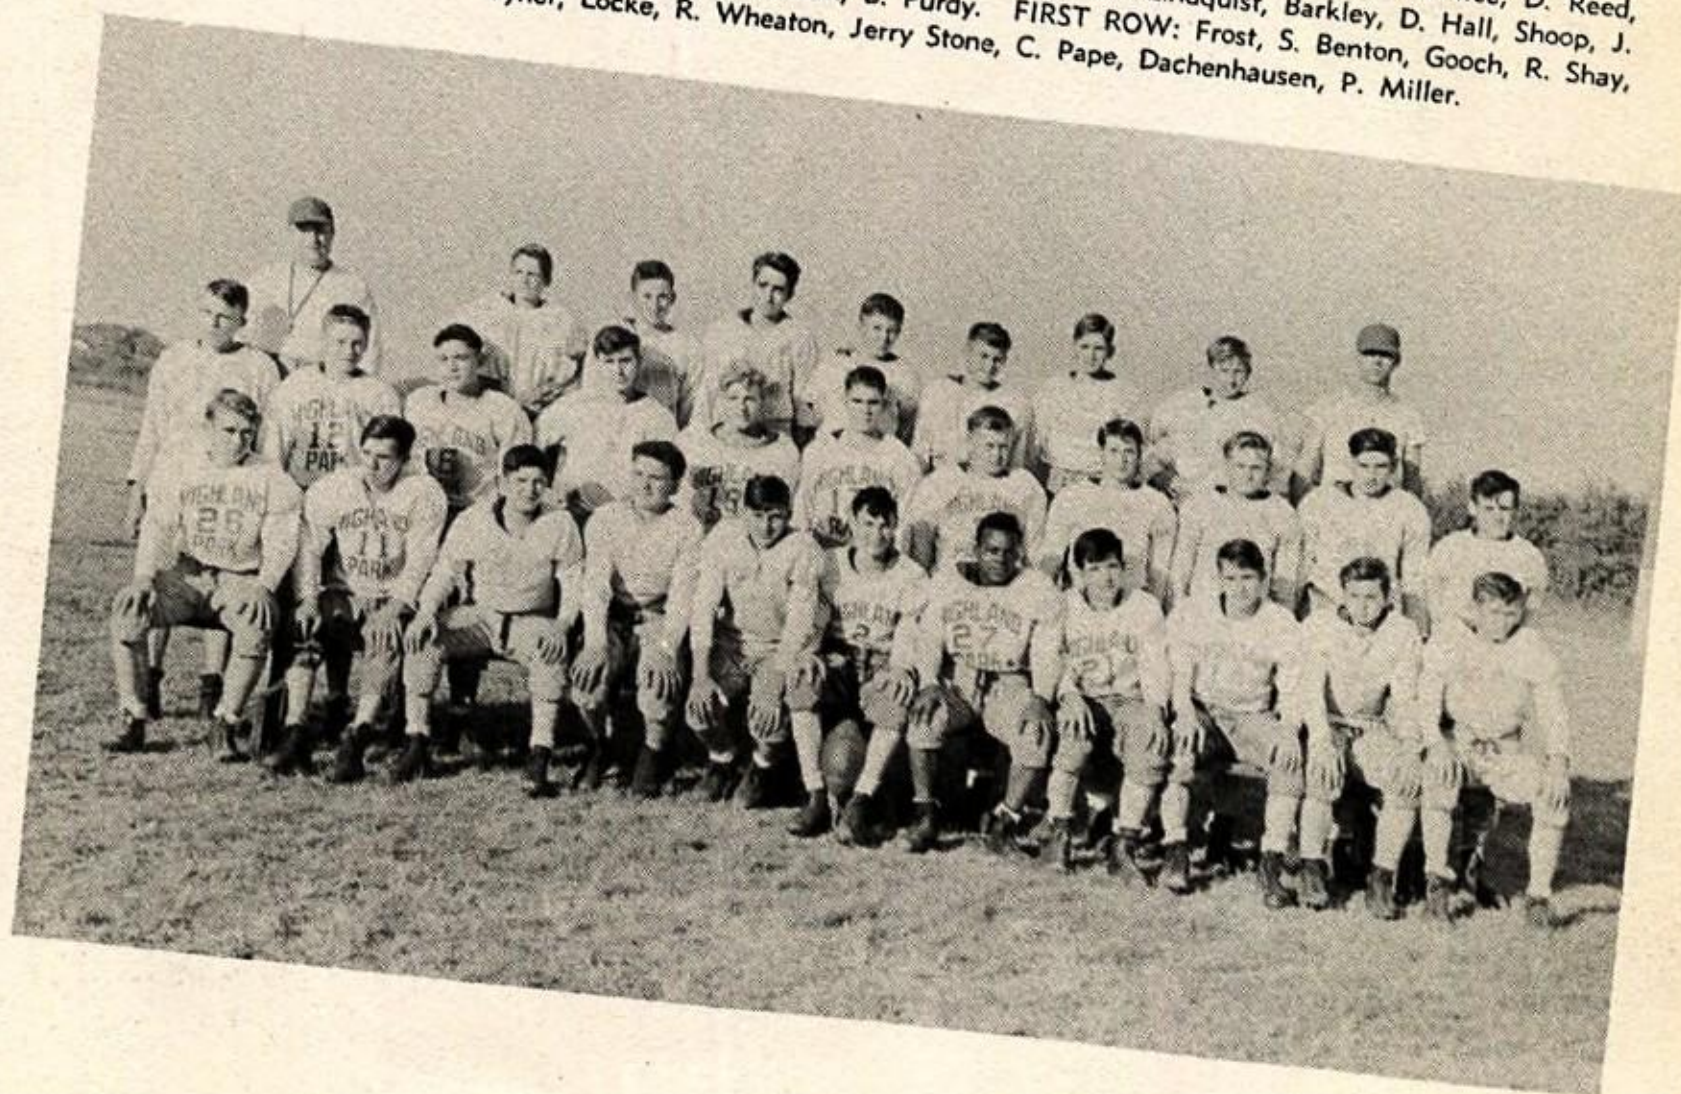

Fifty-five freshmen and sophomores finished the season of work and play without a serious injury or complaint. The only two "beefs" heard frequently were that the freshmen did not like to carry in the dummies (tackling dummies, that is) and that Dick "Tiny" Shumway (248 pounds) occasionally stepped on one of them.

Here's to the future football players of Highland Park High!

With only one returning letterman and with Bill Howard as their new coach, the Scotties developed a brand of wideopen ball that paid off both in spectator thrills and games won. After dropping the first three games, the tall, fast Scotties began to click, amassing a 14 won-9 lost record against some of the finest Class A high schools in the eastern half of the State.

Depending primarily on the fast break and a vicious double screen on the offense, the Scots had the rebounding and ball-hawking ability to crack down on the defense. Of the nine games lost by HPHS, six were lost by three points or fewer.

The Parkers placed two men on the Jayhawk League All-Stars—tall, sharpshooting, rebounding Frank Fritts and scrappy, fast, ball-hawking Frenchie Jones, a boy who had a habit of hitting the basket when the chips were down.

With Frenchie Jones the only returning letterman on the golf squad, the Scotties are again trying to win their third Jayhawk League championship in as many years. With the addition of Bill Ash from Kemper Military Academy and other boys with a little less experience, the Highland Park linksters should not lack talent. The golf schedule is not complete at the deadline for HIGHLANDER copy.

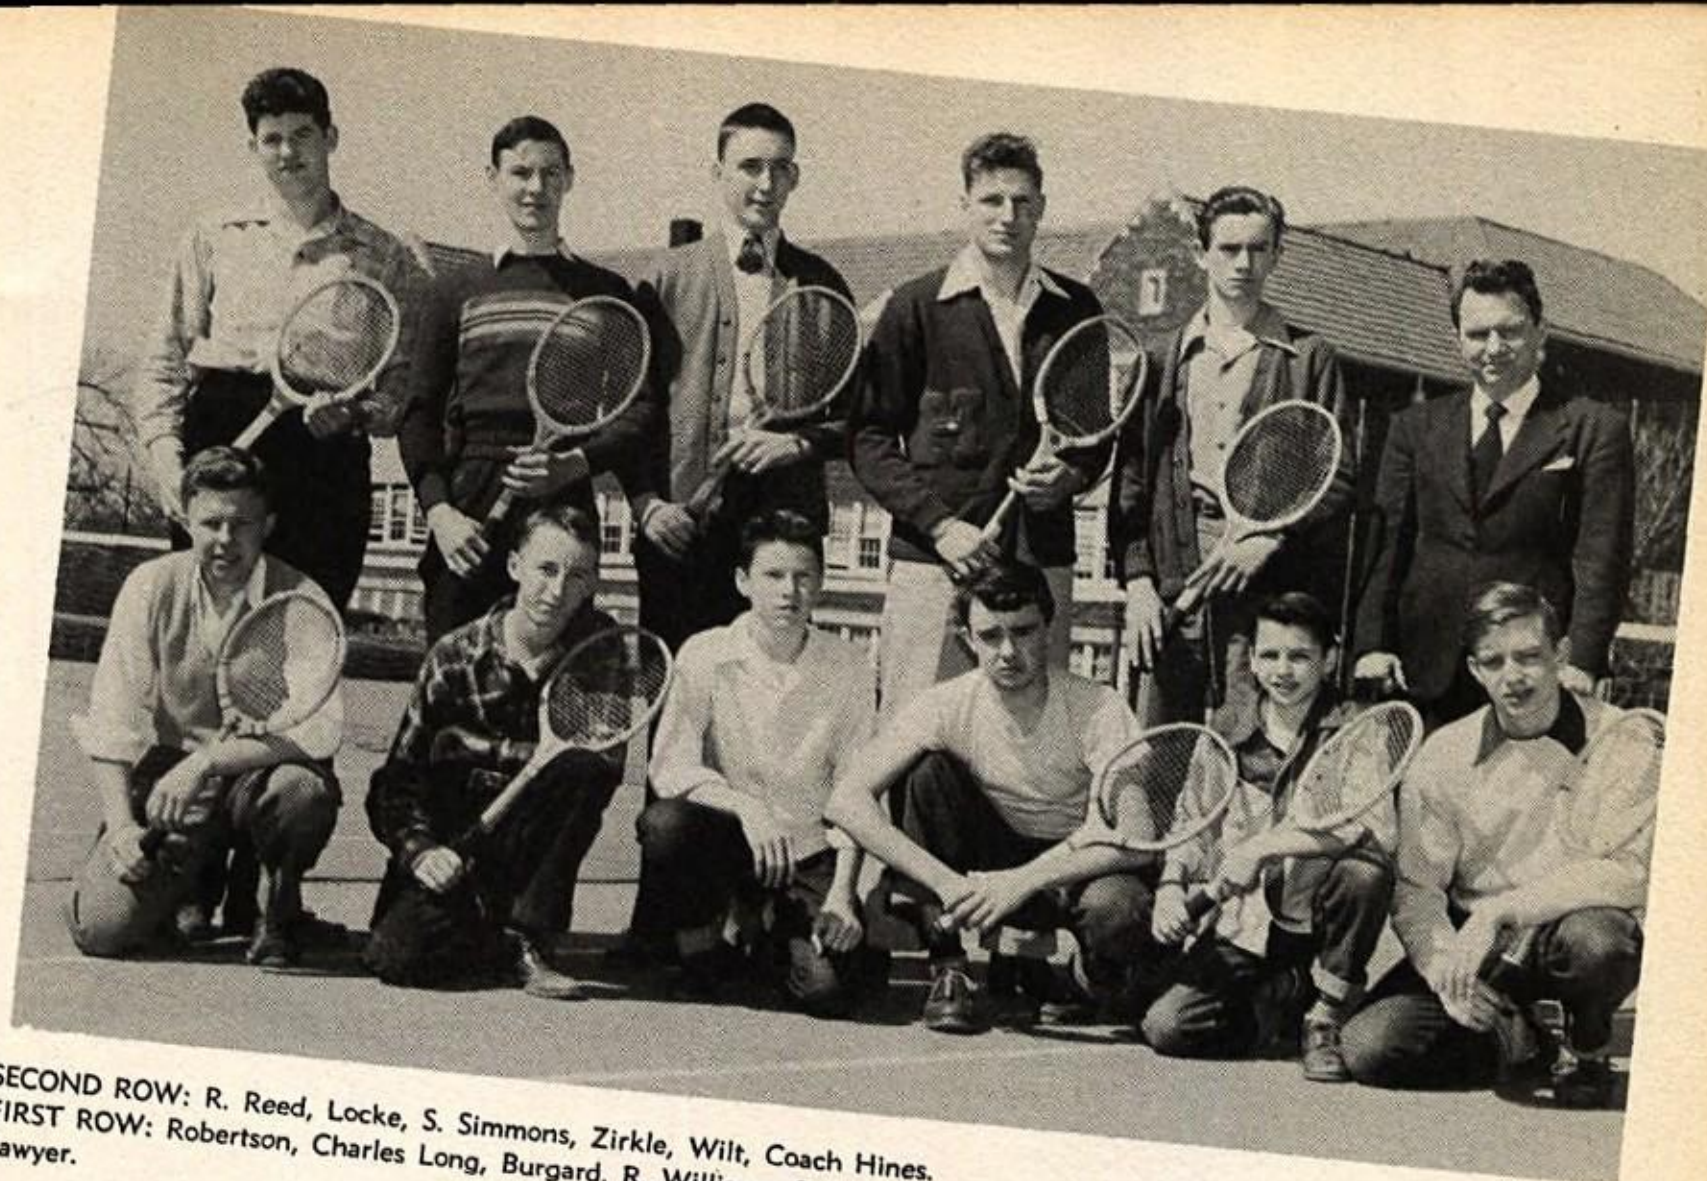

Bill Ash tees off.

Frenchie Jones lays one on the green.

Net-men of Highland Park are out to annex their third Jayhawk League trophy in three years as the yearbook goes to press. They are sparked by the efforts of the two returning letter-men, Rex Wilt and Merle Zirkle, and a capable group of novices. Five matches are scheduled for the spring season.

Rex Wilt sends a fast serve over the net.

Merle Zirkle is on the job as Wilt's net man.

FOURTH ROW: Charles Long, Evans, Obenhaus, Gregg, Frost, S. Benton, Pape. THIRD ROW: Stethem, Frye, Packer, Don F. Boaz, Andfer, Robinson, G. Stone, Gooch, Don A. Boaz, A. Bailey, S. Werner. Jones, Boursaw, Barraclough, Berry, Murphy, Meek, Carver Long, Shumway.

Highland Park thin-clads with a fair sprinkling of lettermen and a galaxy of promising recruits will be attempting to top the Jayhawk League for the third consecutive year. All in all, this year's cinder season promises to be one of the most grueling and exciting seasons since track was revived as a league sport in 1945.

Results of this season's meets are not available as the deadline for yearbook copy antedates the track, tennis, and golf season.

The respect, admiration, and friendship of the student body gave to Mike Berry and Delores Aaron, seniors, the honor of being voted King and Queen of the 1949 HIGHLANDER.

Reigning over the "Under the Sea" Sports Dance, sponsored by Scotch Lassies, are King Frank Fritts, Queen Peggy Simmons, Prince Bernard Jones, and Princess Donna Bledsoe. The four seniors were chosen by a vote of the entire student body.

"Where you can see the styles of tomorrow, today."

The royal procession enters the gymnasium at the homecoming coronation ceremonies October 8. Deborah Hines and Janice McFarland, clad in the traditional Scotch kilts, lead the royal party—Princess Delores Aaron, Prince Bernard Jones, Queen Marilyn Hentzler, King Wayne Horton, Princess Donna Bledsoe, and Prince Don George. The group is followed by Donna Kraus, Homecoming Queen of 1947, who crowned this year's King and Queen.

The royal party, elected by the entire student body, are ready for inspection.

Queen Marilyn and King Wayne reign on their decorated throne.

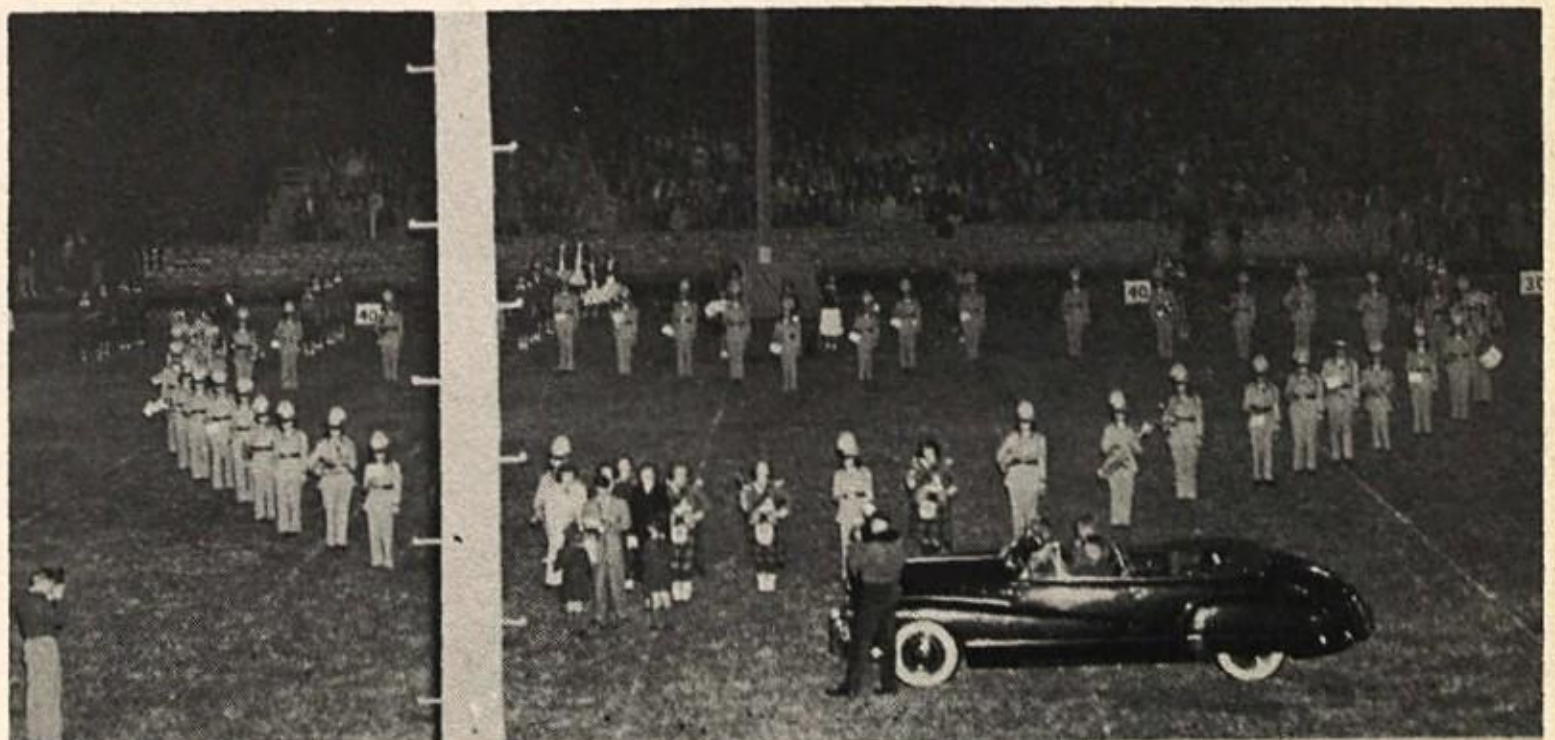

The King and Queen dance the first one together. (He seems to be "out of this world.")

Following the presentation ceremony at the field between halves of the Highland-Washburn game, the Scotch Lassies toss dozens of gaily-colored balloons into the air.

Ted Purdy as master of ceremonies presents flowers to the queen and princesses.

Standing in heart formation, the band plays "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and the cameras flash as the girls receive their flowers.

Pug Revell and Marilyn Hentzler, assisted by Don George and Terry Jacquith, distribute Valentines at their party at Shawnee Country Club. Basketball boys will always remember this party—Coach wouldn't let them go!

W.P.A. Women Pay All Week suits Bob Boner as Anne Christensen buys his movie ticket.

Sitting out a dance at the Country Club—Irene McConnell, James Ledford, Jim Chilson, and Phyllis Fulton.

The biggest night of all—the Junior Prom. Carolyn Lacey and Merle Zirkle are in high spirits as they leave for the dance.

Seniors invited their parents and faculty members to a Christmas dance at Lake Linge. Waiting for class rings to be distributed by "Santa Claus" Andres are Donna Bledsoe, John Franzke, Pat Swan, Terry Jacquith, Marilyn, and Frank Fritts.

Club initiations are rollicksome affairs—Note Pug's predicament at Clef Club party when she must tote Mike Berry piggy-back.

Spotlighters staged a wierd fall party in an old abandoned fort southeast of town. Phyllis Sims and Mary Frances Hutton present an original stunt.

At their annual class party sophomores became designers—with newspapers, that is. Marilyn Barnard copped the honors with her complete outfit.

'Twas a lucky camera man who invaded this slumber party! Undisturbed, however, by the presence of a lone male are Dixie Lewis, Ginnie Fowler, Pug, Wilma Gates, and Eleanor Wright.

Future Homemakers began their social season with a dance in Kreipe's barn on October 30. More than 120 girls and their dates attended the shin-dig.

"Baby Face" McCarter is all set for his grand entrance in the mock television program presented by HIGHLANDER staff to start yearbook sales.

Her shako may be 'way too large, but Marilyn Hentzler admires her new band uniform anyway. Pat Swan and Nancy McCammon apparently have their doubts.

An apple for the teacher—Dallas Noel trades a partly eaten one to Miss Baskett for his grade card.

'Twas a sad day when Little Henry Liskey went back to Kezletown, Virginia, to live. Standing in line to bid him a fond farewell are Ginnie Fowler, Doris Gunselman, Betty Hunt, and Shirley Fowler.

Dick Weller seems glad that Yvonna Bradford lost a football game bet with Frenchie Jones 'cause she had to kiss Frenchie during the noon hour rush.

Highland gals take an exciting spin on the roller coaster at the Fair.

Nita Patterson, one of many H. P. students employed during the Christmas season, shows scarfs to a customer at Lerner's Shop.

Ginnie Fowler and Eleanor Wright post a "WELCOME HOME" sign and bedeck Mr. Croft's house with paper streamers in preparation for his return from the hospital.

Eating cotton candy at the State Fair is a real treat for Shirley Stone, Darlene Driggers, Joyce Stone, and Joan Urbanek.

Everyone at HPHS knows when Thursday rolls around for that is "jean day" for all the girls at school.

Barbara Kramer, junior class vice-president and business manager for the class play, arranges the ticket board for the play.

Favorite hair styles at HPHS—Kathy Smith's short curls, Virginia Bean's page boy with bangs, Wilma Gates' upsweep, and Sue Ferrin's long bob.

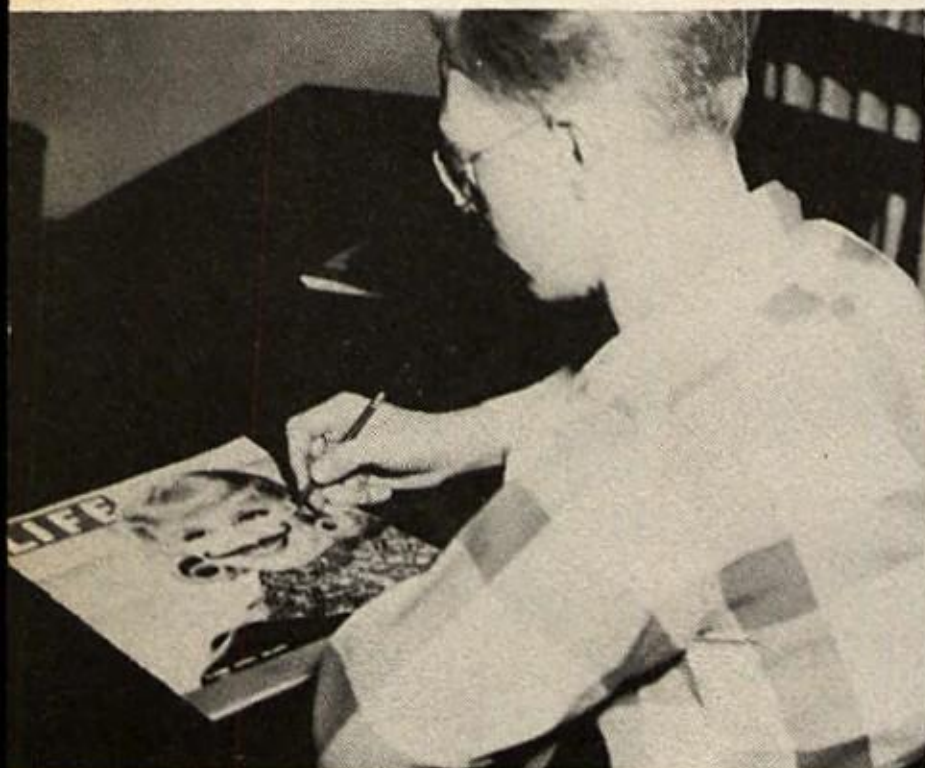

Male locks are classy, too—Emmett Barraclough's blond curls, Lyman Boursaw's straight hair, Farrel Tolbert's crew cut, and "Skip" DuBois' wavy hair.

In a special pep assembly, Scots conduct funeral services for the Hayden Polecats. While Eleanor Wright, Melvin Biggart, and Jack Kenney weep and wail, Janice Huntsman mops up the tears. Mourner Mike Berry and Pastor Don George pay their respects also.

A variety of noon-hour entertainment is provided for Scottie students—whoops! How did this snapshot slip in here? Enjoying the solitude in the auditorium are CF and FJ, VF and LG, JC and PF, and BK and LB. When the picture was taken MW and BA were in the group, but they seem to have vanished.

Another favorite pastime for would-be young artists is adding finishing touches to photos in magazines in study hall. Lindsay Gillespie adds a fetching mustache.

Mary Jo Houck, Lois Chambers, and Nancy Myzer try to sell candy after school (to add to yearbook funds) despite interference from Ted Smith, Don Anderson, and Ruben Lopez.

Gov. Frank Carlson chats with Coach Howard's wife at the finals of the regional tournament held at Topeka High School.

They're responsible for your excellent hot lunches—Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Fair.

Mrs. Nora Morris, substitute teacher for almost four months, works overtime grading history papers.

It's no wonder that 1,200 pounds of watermelon was consumed at the annual HIGHLANDER feed September 10. Doris, Dina, Olive Jean, Barbara, Boyce, Ginnie, Dallas, and Carver really stow it away.

'Tis surprising how many kids a jalopy can hold. There's an overflow when Ted, Dixie, Coleen, Wayne, Shirley, Wilma, Betty, Lindsay, and Ginnie try to crowd in.

These fellows are anything but broom-leaners. They're busy every minute of the day—Mr. Andres, Mr. Chambers, and Mr. Kahle.

Don George starts on big venture to Washington, D. C., as one of forty finalists from the 48 states in Westinghouse science talent search.

"Order," requests Bernard Jones, presiding over Student Council. As Student President, he holds the highest student position at HPHS.

Charles Long pops up out of the escape box used by Birch, Master Magician.

Tom Sawyer was an individualist even back in Miss Elliott's sixth grade when he made this sketch. (Note cross-stitch bangs! A typical Sawyer touch!)

Dixie Lewis from way down at 4 feet 10 inches looks up at Dale Dixon, six feet four.

A whirl on the merry-go-round is fun for the gang who've spent twelve years together in Highland Park schools—Greeta Smith, Bob Couch, Bertha Brewer, Pat Swan, Ethel Haller, Cody Mark, Bernard Jones, Carolyn Lacey, Donna Bledsoe, Lois Boaz, Edwin Osborn, Miss Wendt, Eleanor Wright, and Ginnie Fowler. Those who didn't hear the school bell ring were Shirley Fowler, Wilma Gates, Lindsay Gillespie, and Tom Sawyer. They missed the picture.
